

SOUTH WEST REGIONAL WOUND CARE PROGRAM (SWRWCP) STRATEGY MAP
Our mission, values and key drivers help us to execute strategic deliverables and impacted outcomes to achieve our vision

VISION Integrated, evidence-informed skin and wound care every person, every healthcare sector, every day

SOUTH WEST LOCAL HEALTH INTEGRATION NETWORK (LHIN) BIG DOT ALIGNMENT: Faster access to appropriate care; value realized by reducing hospital visits and days.

SOUTH WEST LHIN INTEGRATED HEALTH SERVICE PLAN STRATEGIC ALIGNMENT: Improve population health and health outcomes; improve value for money.

- SWRWCP STRATEGIC DELIVERABLES:
1. To advocate for the seamless, timely and equitable delivery of evidence-informed skin and wound care to the South West LHIN population
 2. Effectively engage with health care system partners
 3. Promote the application of evidence-informed, person-centered skin and wound care to the South West LHIN population regardless of the health care setting
 4. Use resources effectively, efficiently and responsibly

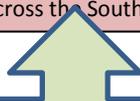

Increase the engagement of healthcare system partners across the healthcare settings to the goals of the SWRWCP via the implementation of a 'Communication and Engagement Strategy' to advocate for standardized evidence-informed wound care practice and smooth efficient transitions of care across healthcare sectors in the South West LHIN.

Develop standardized evidence-informed skin and wound care tools/resources, posted centrally on the SWRWCP website and increase the number of Wound Care Champions who have a minimum level of SWRWCP-Wounds Canada certification (or equivalent) within each healthcare sector to promote and implement such resources across the South West LHIN.

Facilitate cross-sectoral system integration via the implementation of a cross-sector partnering governance/accountability model to improve collaboration in reducing the incidence of wounds and improving prevention management for the South West LHIN via standardized evidence-informed prevention strategies.

KEY DRIVERS
More than 50% of clients receiving in-home nursing services through the South West Community Care Access Centre (CCAC) require wound-related care. This statistic, along with the increasing number of seniors in Ontario and the need to increase service capacity to meet the increasing demand for services provides the rationale for the sustainability of the SWRWCP. System fragmentation, lack of cross-sector alignment related to wound prevention and management and the absence of a sector-wide evaluation system advocates for the SWRWCP to facilitate the alignment of wound care across health care settings.

MISSION To advocate for the seamless, timely and equitable delivery of high quality, safe, efficient, and cost effective, person-centered, evidence-informed skin and wound care to the people of the South West LHIN, regardless of the setting.
